

Parenting Programmes and Support Professionals' Briefing

Professionals who support or work with parents and carers are invited to join our free online information sessions to find out about parenting programmes, advice and support available from the Tower Hamlets Parenting Team.

Find out about the range of parenting programmes available, who is eligible to attend and how to make a referral.

The briefing will include tips for engaging parents, encouraging regular attendance getting the most out of a parenting programme and opportunities for you to join discussions and network with other professionals working with parents and families.

Who would benefit from attending?

Social workers, School staff, Health practitioners, children and family workers considering parenting programmes and support options for parents and carers.
